

Government Sets Maximum Prices; Mailed Fist of U. S. To Crush Strike

President Takes Initial Step To Safeguard Public

Washington, Oct. 31.—President Wilson today issued an executive order restoring maximum coal prices, made by the fuel administration, which were suspended when the fuel administration ceased its work.

This is the first step actually taken by the president in the coal situation.

The purpose of the order is to prevent profiteering during the period of the impending strike.

Washington, Oct. 31.—The government is today prepared for a titanic struggle with the bituminous coal miners.

Government machinery, legal and military, is ready for action and awaits only the overt act—a strike—before getting in motion.

Under orders from the railroad administration regional railroad administrators are seizing coal and preparing to parcel it out to those who need it most.

President Wilson today will issue an order restoring maximum prices on soft coal.

The department of justice has sent representatives to Indianapolis to seek an injunction to restrain the strike leaders from putting the strike into effect.

The war department maintaining wartime secrecy, has thousands of troops in readiness to prevent disorder and to afford protection to those who will defy the strike order.

Troop movements have been made quietly and departmental commanders have been issued wide authority in responding to calls for help.

Even more drastic steps will be taken by the government when the occasion arises, it was stated today in administration circles.

The text of the order fixing coal prices was drawn by Fuel Administrator Garfield and Director General Hines yesterday but did not reach the White House until late. The president, by a busy day had gone to sleep and Mr. Wilson telephoned to executive offices that he must not be disturbed.

The order before the president, it was learned, deals only with the restoration of the maximum coal prices in effect when the fuel administration suspended, April 1, 1919. It carries a supplementary list, showing the prices in effect at that time.

COAL OPERATORS TO DECIDE IF MINES WILL BE OPERATED

Cleveland, O., Oct. 31.—In order to be able to act speedily on any eleventh hour peace proposal to avert the coal strike, the coal operators executive committee which gathered here today will remain in session until tomorrow night.

While awaiting the possibility that they may be called upon to act upon some solution of the coal crisis, they will formulate their policy to be followed if the strike becomes effective.

The most important decision to be made is whether or not the mines will be operated after tomorrow.

The committee as it gathers today will be more of a compact body than the committee which met the miners at Buffalo and Philadelphia. Each of the four states in the central competitive coal field—western Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois—will have four representatives instead of eight.

Simultaneously the Pittsburgh vein operators association will meet here.

ORDER BUILDING OF NEW SCHOOL FOR NEXT YEAR

The third floor of Central High School building on East Market street and the entire East Main street colored school building, were condemned for use for school purposes after the present school year, by an order received Friday by John Beachem, secretary of the Board of Education, from T. P. Kearns, Chief Deputy in the Department of Inspection, Industrial Commission of Ohio.

The condemnation of the buildings includes an order that an entire new school building with all modern conveniences be built to accommodate the children next year. The action grew out of an inspection made by Deputy May of both buildings in this city about two weeks ago. At that time plastering which dropped off the ceiling at East Main street school caused the children to refuse to go to school until an inspection as to the safety of the building was made, proving that there is no immediate danger in its occupancy.

The results of the investigation in Central School building is summed up in the letters as follows: "This building is an old structure, floor in bad condition, fire escapes old and rusty, building unsanitary, no heating and ventilating system. It would be a waste of money to try and make this building conform to the Ohio State Building Code for school purposes. Therefore discontinue the use of the third floor of the building after the close of the present school year 1919-20, and provide a new building with all of the modern conveniences."

Referring to the East Main street school the letter says: "This school building is an old structure, wall cracked in many places, roof in bad condition, cross light in the rooms, has no ventilating system, fire escape is in bad repair, sanitary conditions bad. Therefore, discontinue the use of the building for school purposes after the present school year 1919-20, and provide a new building with all of the modern conveniences."

"I refer you to sections 1031-1037, 4648-4657, Ohio General Code."

These drastic orders will no doubt bring the necessity of new school buildings before the public in a better light. The necessity of erecting two new school buildings in Xenia before September 1920 will require immediate action or Xenia's school accommodations will be unable to care for the children next fall.

The city has passed a bond issue of $23,000 for the purchase of sites for two new buildings, but the necessity of erecting two new buildings at once, will require the issuance of another big bond issue at once.

PERSHING TO GIVE VIEWS

Washington, Oct. 31.—General Pershing, commander of the A. E. F., was to give today to the house and senate military affairs committee sitting in joint session his views and recommendations as to army reorganization plans based on his experiences in the war against Germany and the lessons learned in that war.

Reds arrested in Cleveland. Left to right, above: Theodore Leowar and Steve Matejka. Below: Mrs. Matejka and George Zaeder. Center: Part of material seized at time of arrests. In the foreground is a loaded bomb; immediately behind this is a knife. The black bar partially hidden by the knife is an unfinished bomb. In the background is shown a box containing an automatic revolver and shell cases.

Cleveland, Oct. 31.—The arrest here of a group of alien anarchists, who were caught with explosives and deadly weapons in their possession throws a startling light on a nationwide bomb plot which had for its object the murder of hundreds of officials and other prominent persons, and the overturning of the government.

"My men have proof," said Chief of Police Smith after the arrests, "that arms and ammunition were ordered from various makers and that home-made weapons in large quantities were being prepared here. Hugo knives made from steel files and steel blades so fashioned that they could be carried in the sleeve of a coat already have been found in addition to the bombs and high explosives."

OUTSTANDING FEATURES OF STRIKE.

New York, Oct. 31.—Outstanding features of reports today from various coal mining centers were:

1. Union officials claim that all organized miners will obey the strike call tomorrow morning and approximately 400,000 will quit work.
2. The private consumer will feel the effect almost immediately while most of the public service corporations and big industries have from two to five weeks reserve supply of coal on hand.
3. In only a few localities are there any indications that disorder will break out.

WELL KNOWN XENIA MAN DIES FOLLOWING LINGERING ILLNESS

Stephen D. Corwin, well known Xenia business man, died at his home at 8 Leaman street, at 9 o'clock Friday morning. He had been suffering from a complication of diseases for the last four years, and had been seriously ill for several weeks.

Mr. Corwin was 57 years of age. He made his home in Spring Valley until about two years ago when he came to this city and opened up the Corwin Auto Sales company at Main and Whiteman streets, operating an auto and tire repair service and acting as agent for the Saxon automobile. He later conducted a garage on Whiteman street.

Mr. Corwin is survived by his wife and one daughter, Miss Goldie Corwin. He leaves the following brothers and sisters, Bert and William of Blanchester, Elmer Thomas and Mrs. Hattie McCoy of Springfield. He was an honorary member of the Eagles lodge.

Funeral arrangements have not yet been completed.

GOVERNOR'S OFFICE SILENT ON MOBILIZATION OF OHIO GUARD FOR DUTY AT STRIKE CENTERS

Columbus, O., Oct. 31.—Neither the governor's office nor adjutant general's office would comment this morning regarding possible Ohio national guard mobilization in connection with the coal strike, which begins at midnight tonight.

"The militia is being held at Akron for no other purpose than for possible duty at Canton in connection with the steel strike disturbances," said Charles E. Morris, secretary to Governor Cox today, when asked whether the state troops were being held at Akron for probable service in connection with the coal strike.

Gov. Cox this morning had not reached a decision relative to the recommendation of Chairman Thomas Duffy, of the state industrial commission, that the national guardsmen now mobilized at Akron be sent home.

"There will be between 40,000 and 50,000 miners on strike in Ohio at midnight tonight," said G. V. Savage, secretary treasurer of the United Mine Workers of America for the sixth district, with headquarters here.

WALDO H. SAWIN DIES IN NEW YORK HOSPITAL

Waldo H. Sawin, son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Durbin Wilson of this city, died at 10 o'clock Thursday forenoon at a hospital in New York city, following a long illness.

Mr. Sawin is well known in this city, and news of his death is received with sorrow by many friends of both himself and Mrs. Sawin who was before her marriage Miss Gertrude Wilson a Xenia girl.

For two years Mr. Sawin had been in ill health, and was stricken with a serious attack of his ailment while visiting at the Wilson home in this city last Christmas. He was removed to a Dayton hospital, and later taken to Atlantic City and then to New York. His condition became such that a week ago he was taken to the hospital where he died.

Mr. Sawin was a civil engineer and was with the Worcester Construction Company of Worcester, Mass., which built the Dayton and Xenia Traction line. While in this city at that time he met Miss Wilson, whom he married in 1899. He was a native of Worcester, Mass., where his only sister Miss Edith Sawin lives.

Mr. Sawin sprang from two old New England families. His father was George Sawin of Worcester, Mass., and his mother was a Merrifield, of New Hampshire. On his mother's side two grandfathers were presidents and professors in Harvard University.

The body will be brought to Xenia, reaching here Saturday morning. Brief funeral services will take place in the chapel at Woodland cemetery at 4 o'clock Saturday.

MERCER-THOMPSON WEDDING OCCURS.

A quiet wedding took place at the Trinity M. E. Parsonage yesterday afternoon at four o'clock, when Mr. George D. Mercer took as his wife, Miss Minnie E. Thompson of this city to be his wife, V. F. Brown the pastor officiating. They will reside here, and be at home to their friends. They were unattended.

Start Machinery In Final Attempt To Avoid Trouble

BULLETIN

Indianapolis, Oct. 31.—Soft coal miners of the United States were enjoined from striking at midnight tonight, under the terms of a temporary restraining order issued by Federal Judge A. B. Anderson here today. Conspiracy to restrict production and production of coal is charged under the Lever act.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 31.—The mailed fist of the department of justice will descend upon the United Mine Workers before night to crush the nationwide strike of soft coal miners set for midnight, it was considered certain here today.

With C. B. Ames, assistant attorney general, and his staff speeding from Washington and with department of justice agents converging in Indianapolis from points within a radius of 500 miles, court action to avert the walkout of hundreds of thousands of mine workers loomed as a strong probability. It is considered deeply significant that federal troops will be called.

Judge A. B. Anderson was requested to remain at his bench until the arrival of the government's legal representatives.

The Levee food and fuel control act would be invoked to stay the almost unprecedented disaster that would follow a tie up of the nation's mines seemed probable. In miners' executive circles, too, there was speculation over the possibility that injunction proceedings might be brought against the miners leaders. Then, in the event the strike proceeded contrary to the court's order, it was believed, the strike leaders would be seized for contempt.

John M. Creighton, special assistant to Attorney General Palmer, already is in the city and last night Government legal experts conferred at the federal building until long after midnight, but they declined to divulge what course of action had been determined upon.

CAPTAIN SAYRE GUEST OF BROTHER IN XENIA

Captain S. H. Sayre, brother of H. L. Sayre, who was discharged from the service Monday and is now on his way to his home in Sacramento, Cal., is the guest for a few days of his brother in this city.

Captain Sayre has been in the service 22 months and for the last six or eight months has been at Camp Morrison, Virginia, from where he received his discharge Monday. He will spend several days here before going on to his home in Sacramento.

CHARGES MECHANICS WERE NOT PATRIOTIC

Columbus, Oct. 31.—"Certain building trades in the construction of Camp Sherman rendered the most unpatriotic service I ever saw under the American flag," declared Major T. E. Rhoades of New York, assistant quartermaster in charge of construction of the camp, testifying before the congressional subcommittee in the statehouse.

Major Rhoades, who was at the camp from the beginning of construction until November, 1917, declared there was no evidence of negligence or extravagance on the part of the A. Bentley & Sons company, Toledo contractors, denying emphatically that costs at any time were deliberately increased. "The only waste and extravagance in the construction," he asserted, "were due to profiteering mechanics and employees."

Asked to specify what trades he meant, Major Rhoades said the steamfitters and plumbers were particularly unpatriotic. "They were so as a class from the time they started until they got through," he said. "Other trades were not so bad. I wouldn't make the charge against carpenters as a class."

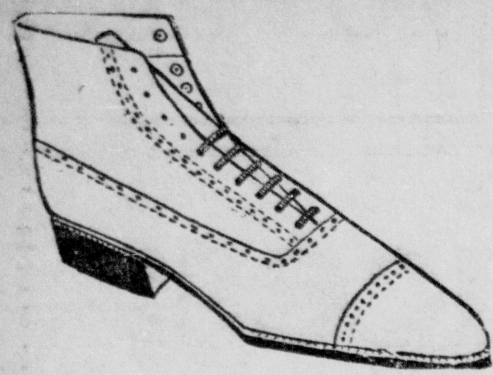

Charges of payroll padding and the like against D. W. McGrath & Sons, Columbus contractors, who followed the Bentley company on the Camp Sherman job, were denied by the firm.

How's It Feel To Ride in Air? Gazette Man Tells Experience

"Lieutenant Haines, airman, is in a scare. The getaway is not disagreeable, and once away from the ground I thoroughly enjoyed the ride, even through a nose spin, dive and other of the milder 'stunts' my friends. Lieutenant Haines took me through Xenia and the surrounding country appeared to me as a beautiful map, highly colored, everything showing in minute detail. I was able to pick out at will streets, buildings, fields, houses, even my own home."

The sense of being up high is entirely lost, and I felt more as though—how far the ground is below me. The aeroplane does not seem as a bird or flying machine, but as though something built permanently up there, high in the air. There was to me no sense of altitude whatever, and I can safely recommend a flight to the most conservative of persons."

Lieutenant Haines is a "safe" pilot, with a lot of experience in government service and I felt only resentment when he "cut her off" and started down.

SAYS SUCCESS EVIDENCED IN MANY RESPECTS

"Trutona Helped Me In More Ways Than One" Mrs. Flemings Asserts

Ironton, Ohio, Oct. 30.—Mrs. Rozzie Flemings is among the well known and highly respected residents of Ironton who are today publicly offering praise for Trutona, the perfect tonic, Mrs. Flemings says:

"I was suffering from nervousness and stomach trouble. I didn't eat much and the little food I ate didn't digest properly. I was usually constipated. A heavy feeling in my stomach almost invariably followed my meals. I was so nervous I couldn't sleep or rest well at night.

"Trutona has helped me in more ways than one. My appetite is a great deal better now and I thoroughly enjoy the food I eat. I've gotten rid of the heavy, annoying feeling in my stomach and I'm able to rest better at night now. Trutona is the best medicine for constipation that I've ever taken. It is alone worth the price in this respect. It is so mild and pleasant in action. I feel better all over, since taking Trutona and I'm sure it will do others a lot of good.

Trutona is now being introduced and explained in Xenia at Sayre & Hemphill's.

BRYAN STATES BELIEF THAT PROHIBITION WILL WIN IN TALK IN XENIA

An exhortation that next Tuesday will see the most important election Ohio has ever held, a plea and an explanation to avoid confusion in the ballots and newly discovered evidence to be used in converting the doubtful to the ranks of prohibition, were the three things emphasized by William Jennings Bryan, who spoke in the interests of a dry country to an enormous crowd at the First M. E. church Thursday afternoon.

"I believe prohibition will win in Ohio this fall," said the great commoner, "and that the liquor interests will never be able to give battle again." He began with an explanation of the workings of the Anti-Saloon League, represented by Mr. Sanford. The League is helping to write the laws at Washington and in our own state legislature, according to Mr. Bryan. It is also fighting for enforcement, and is not without opposition. "As long as there will be lawyers fighting prohibition in order to get a slice of it," he said, "but we believe our lawyers will succeed with the help of our organization. Third, the League is carrying the gospel of prohibition to the remotest corners of the earth.

"Ontario," said the speaker, "voted to retain prohibition by a majority of 200,000 since the boys came back. We are very sanguine, but it is going farther than we thought. Although I am now 59 years of age, I am hoping to see the day when there will not be an open saloon under any known flag."

The statesman expressed his intention of being present at the two state conventions and he guaranteed a dry plant in both the Democratic and the Republican presidential platforms. "For if one does the other will have to," he said.

"If we lose this election this fall it will mean that Ohio has lost everything it has gained. The wets can take prohibition out of the constitution in one day," he explained. "You have to go to the polls and out vote them. If you don't win, they can sell to anybody, even children and run wide open on Sunday the same as Monday."

"I think President Wilson made a mistake when he vetoed the prohibition enforcement measure, but I am glad it was a harmless mistake, because congress corrected it in 24 hours. Taft made such a mistake when he vetoed the Webb Kenyon law but congress passed it over his veto. "The veto don't amount to much in this country, for we believe in a co-operative government. This is the most impressive lesson that Europe has learned about the sentiment back of prohibition in this country."

"The wets can't profit by the veto. There is nothing in the veto message to encourage a wet. The President would not sign the bill to pass war prohibition but he said that he would sign the bill to pass constitutional prohibition. The wets are trying to nullify the enforcement act, but the President is willing to sign a bill putting into effect an amendment just like it. The President hasn't said anything that the wets could use to bolster up their cause this fall."

"These people would have made drunkards out of all our soldiers. They are putting soldiers in front of them to protect them. They are slandering the best soldiers the world ever saw, by saying that they want to vote on the question again.

"My dream is to send a man out to vote the farmer so he won't have to come into town. But this year we must vote rain or shine if we are to have a 100 per cent vote. When the women vote, they'll take care of the saloon, he said.

The "great commoner" explained how to avoid confusion in the ballots. There are two ballots affecting the question. Vote "yes" on the longer one and "no" on the shorter one. To remember, which is which, associate the longer word with the longer ballot and the shorter word with the shorter ballot.

"The hour is struck," he said, "and the saloon is dead and you can't resurrect it in Ohio if you try. The time has come the day of victory is near. God has sounded the trumpet and will not retreat until there is not an open saloon on his footstool. He concluded by quoting from the third line of the fourth stanza of the "Battle Hymn of the Republic."

Mr. Sanford, of the Anti-Saloon League spoke previous to Mr. Bryan. He is a dramatic speaker and outlined the history of the league, "twenty-six years ago a number of people had the faith to believe in an organization that would eventually drive the liquor traffic from the state," he said. "They stuck to the job and that is what counts."

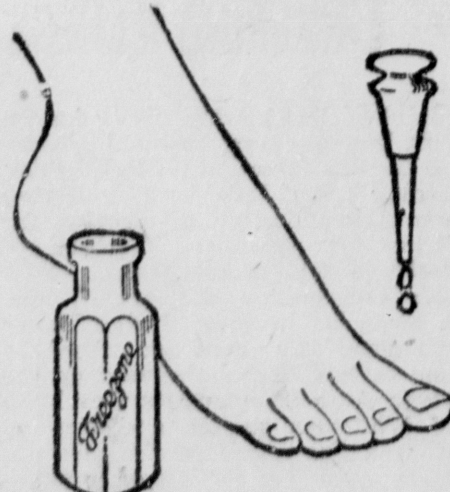

"The Anti-Saloon League has revolutionized the thought of our country. The sentiments of the people will veto the veto of the president. We are not yet all through—the liquor traffic has signed no armistice—it will come back at the first opportunity."

Mr. Sanford also spoke of the need of the movement in Europe. "The only bayonet that ever pierced a woman's heart was not the bayonet of the Prussian," he said.

The speakers were introduced by Rev. Homer G. Biddelee, chairman of the Greene County Dry Campaign, and the meeting opened with the singing of America by the assembly and a prayer by Rev. Albert Read of the Baptist church.

Lower Tax Rates For the Rich?

By A. V. Donahay, Auditor of State.

The voters of Ohio at the November election will vote on a constitutional amendment providing that all property shall be classified for taxation, and that a different tax rate may be applied by law to each class. If adopted it will take the place of our present plan of taxation, which provides "that all property, both real and personal, shall be taxed at its true value in money and at a uniform rate."

Before voting, fix these facts in your mind:

1. The change from one uniform tax rate to a dozen or more rates on various classes of property will increase the costs of operating the 88 county auditors' and the treasurers' offices over one million dollars.
2. The amendment contains no tax rate limitations on improved or productive real estate, and the legislature that classifies property also has the power to repeal the Smith One Per Cent Tax Law.
3. Classification will not increase public revenues so long as tax rates on visible property remain as at present. Most of the advocates of classification have been forced to admit this fact.
4. If this amendment be adopted, the tax on homes and farms will be increased, and each time the general assembly meets we will have a taxation fight that will demoralize the legislative branch of our government. Owners of each class of intangible property will be begging the general assembly to fix a low rate of taxes on their particular class, claiming, of course, "If you make the tax rates low enough we will all be honest." It will be nothing more or less than a legislative compromise with dishonesty once in each two years.

Mr. Voter, do you want a certain class of taxpayers to settle their annual tax bills at an average rate of 15 cents on the dollar while you pay your taxes at 100 cents on the dollar? The inequality and inequity of such a policy is contemptible in design. Its sole purpose is to relieve the loan sharks and Shylocks from an equal share in the expense of operating our schools, building our roads and paying the interest on our 456 millions of debt. Such a policy would fall with crushing weight upon the owners of small homes and farmers of the state, upon whose well being the prosperity of our commonwealth so much depends. The predatory wealth of the state certainly is not entitled to special favors in the way of taxation. The classification amendment, if adopted, is a sure thing for the tax dodgers, but a barren ideal for the home owners. Surely this medicine was not mixed for the security and protection of the widow's vine-clad cottage or the workingman's home, but for the relief from taxation of those who have acquired, inherited and hidden the state's vast intangible resources. County auditors in every county of the state will tell you their most productive source of information concerning untaxed or omitted property comes from the appraisal of the estate of deceased tax dodgers.

This taxation fight is between visible and invisible wealth. It is not alone the fight of the man who owns a farm or home and pays direct tax; it is the fight of the laborer, the man who sweats and owns no property. He is more heavily taxed than all the rest because he devotes his entire time to the production of wealth, and all wealth primarily comes from the earth. The greater the tax on land the harder it will be for the real taxpayer (the laborer) to exist. Every laboring man in Ohio should go to the polls and vote "No" on the tax amendment this fall.

These classificationists ought to know that low tax rates for the rich and high tax rates for the poor can only be maintained by keeping the poor ignorant, and they will find on November 4th that the poor of Ohio are not ignorant. You might just as well ask for a constitutional amendment classifying foods, requiring that one-fourth the people eat meat, one-fourth bread, one-fourth potatoes and one-fourth mush. Before voting you would want to know whether you are to be placed in the "mush" class.

The second Red Cross film "Rebuilding Broken Lives," to be shown in this city as part of the 1920 membership campaign publicity program, will appear at the Bijou Theater Friday night.

The film is a remarkable pictorial demonstration of the work of the Red Cross in reclaiming the human wrecks that have come out of the war, and the wonderful social work this great organization is doing among these returned and wounded soldiers.

The movie is made interesting so as not to bore and will be instructive and educational to many who are unfamiliar with the work of this "great mother of all."

Common-Sense for Corns, "Gets-It"

The Great Painless Corn Loosener. Simple as A. B. C. Never Fails.

If you have ever tried to get rid of a corn by bundling up your toe with bandages, or by using salve that made your toe red and almost raw, or tried to drag your corn out with a knife, there will be a surprise waiting for you when you use "Gets-It." Imagine peeling your corn off gloriously, easily and painlessly, just like peeling off a banana skin. Well, that is what happens when you use "Gets-It." There is nothing else that will give you this same result. Millions of folks have had the same blessed experience. Why putter and suffer, limp, and spoil a good time for yourself and your friends, or your peace of mind while trying to attend to business? Use "Gets-It," the simple common-sense way. "Gets-It," the only sure, guaranteed, money-back corn-remover, costs but a trifle at any drug store. Mfgd by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill.

Sold in Xenia and recommended as the world's best corn remedy by Sayre & Hemphill and D. D. Jones.

REPUBLICAN SENATORS MISREPRESENTING THEIR PARTY.

It is a well-known fact that the Republican Senators of this state are misrepresenting their party.
They are not doing what they should be doing. They are not representing the people. They are representing their own interests.
They are not doing what they should be doing. They are not representing the people. They are representing their own interests.

Mr. Morris says: "What is it that our two United States Senators desire to do? Are they aiming to defeat the peace treaty and the league of nations? If they are, do they represent the wishes of the majority of citizens of Pennsylvania? Or are they following their own selfish and partisan designs? As I go up and down the state and talk with all kinds of people and as I read our newspapers I find no wish for the defeat of the treaty and league. But I do find an almost unanimous demand for their enactment and an increasing exasperation at the delay.
Senators Knox and Penrose were elected by Republicans to represent their political opinions. They do this in many ways. But the horse sense of Republican business men perceives that the treaty and league are immediately essential to business prosperity and the peaceful pursuit of industry. This it is plain that our senators are out of step with their own party."

Woman's Faith Helps Husband

"I owe my good health to my wife who had faith in a newspaper ad she saw of May's Wonderful Remedy. I was down so badly with stomach and liver trouble after 15 years of suffering and trying every known remedy that I had no faith in anything. This medicine has certainly been a 'Godsend to me.' It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis.

Working Man

Mr. D. Williams, 14 Wilfred avenue, Dayton, O., says:
"I was suffering with a severe cold, was sore from my throat to the bottom of my lungs, on my way home from work I stopped in a DRUG STORE to get something to relieve me, they sold me a bottle of NAT-A-VAP giving me the first dose in the store. I went home and followed directions and in the morning I felt fine, was able to go to work as usual. It is wonderful.
I certainly recommend it."

ONE BREWERY OWNED 400 SALOONS IN MILWAUKEE.

One of the ways in which the brewers were able to own the saloons as well as customers, was to own the saloon and hire the saloon keeper.
This of course made the saloon a subsidiary in business to the brewery. Taking the country all over, this meant that perhaps a larger number of the saloons of the nation belonged to the brewers than to anybody else.

There is a sample of the way the old thing worked for the reason of this. The Joseph Schmitz Brewing Co., of Milwaukee, is liquidating its assets by offering for sale approximately 4000 pieces of property, owned in all parts of the United States, according to S. D. Abrams, manager of the real estate department, the real estate aggregates several million dollars in value.

If some unforeseen occurrence were to prevent the complete enforcement of the prohibition act, the company might decide to buy back the real estate. But we are not looking for that unforeseen occurrence, thank God. The property has been accumulated during forty years for use as saloons and other purposes, and represents ideal sites for retail stores because of central business location.

According to Mr. Abrams, 400 sites are owned in Milwaukee, while the remainder are scattered over the country.
Mr. Abrams adds that the Joseph Schlitz Co. owns more scattered real estate than any other concern or individual in the United States.

Think of that, will you? A single brewery owning 400 saloons in Milwaukee.
If one saloon in a town means rags and misery for some of its people, four hundred saloons in a single town mean rags and misery multiplied four hundred times. Universal happiness and prosperity cannot exist in the same place with the saloon any more than peace and safety can exist in a sheep-fold when the wolf has entered it.

Seven Things To Be Sure Of IN THE PURCHASE OF YOUR PIPELESS HEATING SYSTEM

- 1 That the quality of heating service assures a comfortable, clean, healthful home in any weather.
- 2 That the convenience of simple operation, regulation, and quick heating compares favorably with much more expensive types of heating systems.
- 3 That the low first cost is due to economy of material and labor instead of cheapness of construction.
- 4 That the fuel bill can be reduced from 1-4 to 1-3 — enough to save handsome dividends on the amount invested.
- 5 That the "upkeep," or expense for repairs, is positively less than any other
types of heating systems.
- 6 That you are protected at this store, because of the manufacturer's refusal to authorize installation where their trained heating engineers cannot safely guarantee it to operate efficiently in your home, their decision being made after careful study of conditions in your home — no guess work — thus protecting all concerned.
- 7 That the purchase will increase the value of your property more than the amount invested.

WOULD PROMOTE BETTER FEELING WITH ENGLISH

The English people are kind hearted, and hospitable, and they are good to Americans. I hope that there will be a better feeling between us, and that we will stand together for peace and right in the world," said Miss Julia Brown, concluding her talk to the Women's clubs of the city Thursday afternoon, on old English country homes in which she had been a guest. Miss Brown is the guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Cnew, who are relatives. She was in England throughout the war, returning to this country on the first vessel on which it was possible for her to obtain passage.

Miss Brown spoke to a gathering of about 100 women in the Sunday school room at the first reformed church, her years spent in England have given her an intimate knowledge of the customs of the British people, and the people themselves. Her talk was unusually entertaining because of that personal knowledge, and she told a number of anecdotes describing manners and mores of the English people which were amusing to her audience.

"Artistic stopping," this was a sign which attracted the attention of Miss Brown in a London street. She was curious enough to inquire the meaning and found that the person who displayed the sign did mending and repairing. The various terms which Americans use, mending, filling, closing, are all covered by the term "stopping," to the British.

Hardwick house near Bury, St. Edmunds, was perhaps the most interesting place of the trip of homes Miss Brown described. She spent a week-end there as the guest of the family. Telling of the trip down from London to Hardwick House, Miss Brown incidentally told of the absence of a cnecking system in England, which fact makes travelling not nearly so pleasant a task as it is in this country. It is necessary, she explained for the traveller to go with the porter to see that her luggage is placed in the car, and at the destination to go to the baggage car, and when all the luggage is dumped out, select her own particular boxes and see that nobody else takes possession of them.

In the garden at Hardwick House are many stately trees, most of them planted by distinguished persons, it having been the custom of the family for years to invite prominent persons who were guests at the place to plant a tree. She was much amused, Miss Brown remarked, when the American girl with her, suggested that they go out and walk in the yard. Her remark was received with the utmost amusement by the family, who although not rude could not help feeling amused because the American spoke of the "yard" when she meant the "grounds." I never heard of any "yard" except the prison yard or the stable yard while I was in England said Miss Brown.

The host's den at Hardwick House, said Miss Brown was to her the most interesting part of the whole place. In it were autographs and letters, of every person famous in the world of art, literature, music, the drama, in England for years. The collection contained personal letters of Dickens, Thackeray and others. On the grounds of this house, was the ruins of the old cathedral in which the Magna Charta was drawn up.

The Junior Woman's Club was hostess to other Women's Clubs for the afternoon, and Mrs. S. O. Hale, president of the Junior club presided. Mrs. W. H. McGervey sang an old English melody "Come Down to Kew," and this brought about an additional little talk from Miss Brown who had been to Kew and described its beauties, its chestnuts and flowers.

Cured His RUPTURE I was badly ruptured while lifting a trunk several years ago. Doctors said my only hope of cure was an operation. Trunks did me no good. Finally I got hold of something that quickly and completely cured me. Years have passed and the rupture has never returned, although I am doing hard work as a carpenter. There was no operation, no lost time, no trouble. I have nothing to sell, but will give full information about how you may find a complete cure without operation if you write to me. Eugene M. Pullen, Carpenter, 2082 Mercatus Avenue, Manassas, N. J. Better cut out this notice and show it to any others who are ruptured—you may save a life or at least stop the misery of rupture and the worry and danger of an operation.

COURED HIS RUPTURE

I was badly ruptured while lifting a trunk several years ago. Doctors said my only hope of cure was an operation. I was dead end as good. Finally I got hold of something that quickly and completely cured me. Years have passed and my rupture has never returned, although I am doing hard work as a carpenter. There was no operation, no lost time, no trouble. I have nothing to sell, but will give full information about how you may find a complete cure without operation. Write to me, Eugene M. Pullen, Carpenter, 205 1/2 Gracechurch Avenue, Newark, N. J. But cut out this notice and show it to any other who are ruptured—you may save a life or at least stop the misery of rupture and the worry and danger of an operation.

TWENTY FIVE BOYS ATTEND ARNOLD PARTY

Mrs. Edward Arnold was hostess to twenty-five boys at a Halloween party at her home on Chestnut street, Thursday evening for the pleasure of her sons, Carl and Vernon.

The house was decorated elaborately in approved Halloween style. Pumpkin lanterns, lighted with incandescents, glared at the youthful guests and the only light was furnished by the hoggoblin lanterns and myriad candles which were placed throughout the rooms. The dining room was particularly attractive in its decorations. A hoggoblin lantern centered the table and ribbons were draped from the chandelier to the corners of the table. A "witch" stationed in a corner told the fortunes of the boy guests.

Games and contests typical of the season, with music, amused the boys during the evening. Pumpkin pie, doughnuts, apples and sweet cider were served.

HOSTESS HALLOWE'EN PARTY AMONG GUESTS

Grotesque masquerade costumes were worn by the guests at the Halloween party given by the force of The Hutchison and Gibney store at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Rakestraw on Maple street, Thursday evening.

The hostess herself put on a masquerade costume, and entered the house with the rest of the grotesquely clad figures. No one suspected her identity.

city until the masks were removed. The house was decorated in witches, black cats, pumpkin faces and other things with which custom surrounds the season, and the refreshment course also carried the same idea.

CONTINUE EFFORTS TO RESCUE MINERS ENTOMBED 3 DAYS

Amsterdam, O., Oct. 31.—Still baffled by the raging flames that for 48 hours have barred rescue work in the No. 2 mine of the Youngsberry and Ohio coal company here, rescue workers today started on a new plan to conquer the blaze and reach the point where 20 men have been entombed since 9 o'clock Wednesday morning.

The workers are endeavoring to wall in the burning area of the mine and construct a passage way to the point where their comrades are either dead or dying. Agonized relatives of the missing men still hope against hope that the entombed men are alive. Experienced rescue workers directing the work only shake their heads sadly when asked if there is still a chance of reaching the men.

There were many volunteers and all through last night the work was kept up. Finally it was decided that walling in the burning section of the mine was the only means by which the miners' tomb could be reached.

Every Other Person Has Seborrhea

Nearly everyone suffers from the scourge of seborrhea.

But there is no need for people longer to have dandruff and falling hair.

Famo stops seborrhea and ends falling hair and itchy scalp.

It destroys the seborrhea germ by penetrating to the hair glands.

A healthy scalp results and vigorous new hair grows.

Famo contains no alcohol to dry the scalp and cause grayness.

It is sold on a positive money-back basis. If you are not satisfied with the results of the large bottle which costs One Dollar, your money will be returned.

There is also a small bottle of Famo at 25 cents. Famo is sold at all toilet goods counters and applications may be had at the better barber shops.

Seborrhea is a morbidly increased flow from the sebaceous glands of the scalp. The seborrheic secretion forms in scales and flakes and is commonly known as dandruff.

Get the Habit of Drinking Hot Water Before Breakfast

Says we can't look or feel right with the system full of poisons.

Millions of folks bathe internally now instead of loading their system with drugs. "What's an inside bath?" you say. Well, it is guaranteed to perform miracles if you could believe these hot water enthusiasts.

There are vast numbers of men and women who, immediately upon arising in the morning, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This is a very excellent health measure. It is intended to flush the stomach, liver, kidneys and the thirty feet of intestines of the previous day's waste, sour bile and indigestible material left over in the body which if not eliminated every day, become food for the millions of bacteria which infect the bowels, the quick result is poisons and toxins which are then absorbed into the blood causing headache, bilious attacks, foul breath, bad taste, colds, stomach trouble, kidney misery, sleeplessness, impure blood and all sorts of ailments.

People who feel good one day and badly the next, but who simply can not get feeling right are urged to obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store. This will cost very little but is sufficient to make anyone a real crank on the subject of internal sanitation.

Just as soap and hot water act on the skin, cleansing, sweetening and freshening, so limestone phosphate and hot water act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. It is vastly more important to bathe on the inside than on the outside, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, while the bowel pores do.

FEW FOLKS HAVE GRAY HAIR NOW

Druggist Says Ladies are Using Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Hair that loses its color and lustre, or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless, is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful, and thousands of women and men value that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe.

Nowadays we get this famous mixture improved by the addition of other ingredients by asking at your drug store for a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the gloss and lustre and gives it an appearance of abundance.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite to impart color and a youthful appearance to the hair. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

MOCK OPERATION HALLOWE'EN FEATURE AT PARTY AT HOSPITAL

A mock operation, with ghostly figures moving about the "patient" in a darkened operating room, was a thrill given the guests at a Halloween party at which Mrs. Lucy Lattimer, sister of Dr. W. C. Hewitt, and the Misses Lu Elmore and Allie Shrader, nurses, were hostesses at the O. S. and S. O. Home hospital Wednesday afternoon.

Women employees of the Home were their guests. The first company, consisting of the cottage matrons, was invited from one thirty until three o'clock, and the teachers and other employees were asked to come from three until four thirty.

Corn stalks, autumn leaves and pumpkins decorated the living apartment, with witches and black cats adding a mystic note. The guests engaged in a witch making contest from black paper, and were then led to the operating room up stairs where the ghostly scene made shivers travel down their spines.

WANTS ACCEPTANCE OF FARM TO BE PARK

The following is from a letter written to the Urbana Democrat and published in that paper.

To the Readers of the Urbana Daily papers:

In the Ohio State Journal issue of some time ago, I noticed the plea of Bert Highlands, Superintendent of Mechanicsburg schools, in behalf of Ohio's acceptance of the John Bryan farm near Yellow Springs with the suggestion that it be turned into "a play ground for the State." If he, Mr. Highlands, makes that as a motion, I hereby second it with the earnest hope that the motion will prevail.

Lately I talked to a bright looking farmer living near the Bryan place and learned that since the death of Bryan, the place is already showing some neglect. So it seems to me that here is the state's opportunity to get free and maintain at but a mere nominal cost, a place or park of beauty.

EUNICE WHITSON (BALLARD) WILSON.

On Tuesday evening, October 21, 1919, the spirit of Mrs. Eunice Wilson, quietly left its earthly tabernacle. She was the daughter of Joseph and Susan Ballard, and was born on the 28th of August, 1843, being 76 years, one month and 23 days old at her death.

On September 7, 1869, she was married to Reuben Wilson who died September 24, 1876. Mrs. Wilson was born in Clinton County near Wilmington, and with the exception of 12 years spent in southern Illinois, lived her life near the old homestead, being in the home of a daughter when the end came. For over 30 years she was a member of the Friends' or Methodist Protestant. She was happy in having both of her children, Joseph V. Wilson of Independence, Kansas, and Mrs. Mary E. Pendry, of Bowersville, Ohio, at her side when she departed. Mrs. Wilson bore her long suffering with courage and patience, always mindful of others, and not wishing to be a burden to any one and appreciating every act of kindness.

Mother and grandmother, we bid farewell to your body, but in the Holy of Holies of our hearts thou shalt live on. Nestling there is a sweet memory of your care, love and devotion, which will help us to try and spend our lives well.

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to extend to our many kind friends and neighbors our most heartfelt thanks for their services and sympathy during the illness and after the death of our mother.

MRS. MARY E. PENDRY.

DRESSMAKER SAVED FROM OPERATION

By Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in Time.

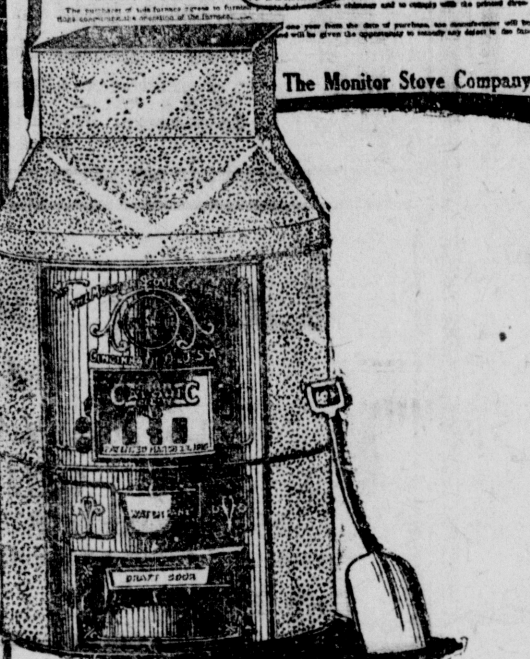

Ithaca, N.Y.—"Three years ago I suffered from pains in my right side, so severe that I could not raise my feet from the floor. Pains would shoot down my limbs and through my back, and the doctor said I had an abscess. I was in bed two weeks with an icebag on my side and expected any day that I might have to go to a hospital for an operation. A friend came to see me and told me of your wonderful medicine—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I began taking it, and after taking six bottles I feel well and strong, do my own work and do dressmaking for others. I cannot speak too highly of your medicine and recommend it to others who suffer with female trouble. It is a Godsend to ailing women, and you may use my name at any time."—Mrs. PERILLA HULSIZER, 218 E. Fall St., Ithaca, N.Y.

Women who suffer from any such ailments should not fail to try this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Stone left Xenia Monday for Urbana where they will make their future home, occupying the east wing of the Mosgrove home on Miami Street. Mr. Stone for the past two years has been associated with the Tennessee National Insurance Company in this city and will take charge of their interests in Urbana and Bellefontaine. They were the honor guests at several delightful entertainments during the past week, and Mr. L. M. Morton of North King street presented Mr. Stone a handsome smoking set. Xenia friends of Mr. and Mrs. Stone deeply regret their departure but wish them success in their new location.

CLAIM SYMBOL "O. K." HAD ORIGIN WITHIN CHAMPAIGN COUNTY

Every so often a story handed down by tradition is good for the rounds of the newspapers and the one about the origin of "O. K." is starting out again, giving Champaign county some more publicity as the place where the characters used as a single symbol originated. Under an Urbana date line a Springfield paper carried the following story Monday and was followed Tuesday by the Cleveland Plain Dealer. Other papers are expected to carry the story during the coming few days.

Whether the story is true or not it makes good reading whenever it appears. It runs as follows: "Urbana, seat of Champaign county, lays claim to the unique distinction of having been the scene of origin of the now universally used business characters, 'O. K.' generally recognized even upon legal documents, as a stamp of official approval.

For years business men used the characters 'O. K.' have wondered at their origin. But the problem remained unsolved until recently, when some of Urbana's oldest citizens recalled the circumstances under which 'O. K.' sprang into existence in Champaign county more than 75 years ago.

History records that on September 15, 1840, during the Harrison campaign, Urbana was the scene of one of the greatest political rallies the state had ever known up to that time. The rally was held in the spacious grove on the estate of John S. Ward, father of John Quincy Adams O' Ward, Ohio's famous sculptor and thousands swarmed to the meeting place from all parts of central Ohio.

Each neighboring village sent a delegation of political boosters to the been crudely made. Among them was rally, each delegation carrying banners and streamers, some of which had one that carried off the honors of the day because of its pun on words and grammatical error.

It was a large transparency, its muslin sides bearing in an awkward scrawl of black paint the words 'The People is Oil Korrek.' It became the joke of the entire state and those who attended the rally used it frequently in exchange of greeting. Soon the phrase 'Oil Korrek' was abbreviated to the two letters 'O. K.' and the reply 'I am all O. K.' became vogue throughout the entire state.

Today the characters 'O. K.' imply all correct are used perhaps more exclusively and universally than any other two letters in the alphabet and Urbana citizens claim the honor for their origin, belongs to Champaign county—Urbana Democrat.

Forgot Waiting Bride.

When John Kemble, the gifted tragedian, was married, he returned to the stage to play Hamlet on his wedding evening. Whether his mind became so absorbed in the character as to exclude all other matters of vital importance, we cannot say; but for the time he forgot his waiting bride and what had befallen him on that fateful day, and went off to his own room on the conclusion of the performance at the theater.

SANDRA THE JEALOUS

BY JANE PHELPS.

Rose Thinks She is Luckier Than I.
CHAPTER CVIL.

Mr. Grandon wrote, entirely exonerating us from any blame for Rose's elopement.

"She has always been wilful. We will hope and pray she may be happy. He had said as he closed his letter to Everett.

I had packed and sent her trunk to Chicago. Also I had written her a long letter. In her reply she had said she was so happy that she had no room for regrets even if she had made me and Everett cross.

"I didn't think anyone in the world could be as happy as I am," (she had been married a week when she wrote this.) "Walter is the dearest thing. And I am absolutely first in his affections. He never has loved any woman before—never wanted to marry anyone, even if he is almost thirty. That seems young compared to your husband, doesn't it? But to me the great thing is that I am the only one, the first. No warmed-over affection in mine, Sandra." There was much more, all in praise of Walter.

Without thinking, I handed the letter to Everett to read, then would have taken it back, had I dared, because of what she had said about being first in her husband's affection.

I watched Everett's face as he read I saw something very like a sneer, then a look of pity upon it. "Poor girl," he said as he laid the letter down. "I hope she never will be deceived. But as to being first with Kemp—thinking she has no warmed-over affection, as she expresses it—his affections, or what he gives that name, have been hashed over so many times that I doubt if any remain. But as I said, we can only hope for the best."

Someway, after Rose left I was happier than when she was with me, although I had enjoyed having her. I spoke of this to Everett, and he replied:

"In the three years you have lived in a different environment you have grown, Sandra. It may be that because I am old—as Rose said—that you, too, have grown older in mind than you would had you married a man nearer your own age. You have learned to fill the hours with things worth while—many of them. An idle person, one who wastes the golden days in foolish running after pleasure, is never really happy. I do not mean that we must not enjoy ourselves; a certain amount of pleasure, of play, is as necessary as is the work. But to think of nothing else, as some men and many women do, is absolutely demoralizing."

"I hope I can learn to keep house well, Everett," I said apropos of nothing in his remarks. "Mrs. Gray is teaching me, in case I should have to manage without a housekeeper. I am practically housekeeper a number of hours every week."

"That's fine, Sandra. I scarcely believe it will ever be necessary, but it is something every woman should know. I had intended proposing just what you have done of your own volition when you were a little older. It is hard to have good servants unless you understand their duties. We might lose Mrs. Gray or some of the others, then you would find the house did not run as smoothly, and it would annoy us. Then, too, I have a queer theory, Sandra, that every man is entitled to comfort in his home. And he cannot have that unless his home is well managed, whether he is rich or poor."

"Mrs. Gray says I am very apt."

"You should be with such a mother."

I was delighted that Everett so liked my mother. Since her visit he never missed saying nice things about her whenever we talked of domestic affairs, or of capability in woman. It made me feel so much nearer to him to know that he liked my people.

After this talk with Everett—we had many serious little conversations in the months after Rose had visited us—I tried harder to learn the running of a home and also applied myself to my lessons with Mrs. Barr with renewed interest. I would make myself a companion for my husband! I would make him proud of me, even if he didn't love me as he had Leola.

ACIDS IN STOMACH CAUSE INDIGESTION

Create Gas, Sourness and Pain, How to Treat.

Medical authorities state that nearly nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble, indigestion, sourness, burning, gas, bloating, nausea, etc., are due to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach and not as some believe to a lack of digestive juices. The delicate stomach lining is irritated, digestion is delayed and food sours, causing the disagreeable symptoms which every stomach sufferer knows so well.

Artificial digestants are not needed in such cases and may do real harm. Try laying aside all digestive aids and instead get from any druggist a few ounces of Bismarck Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water right after eating. This sweetens the stomach, prevents the formation of excess acid and there is no sourness, gas or pain. Bismarck Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and is the most efficient form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.

"Please take my cup and fill it up."
"Again for me, my dear."
"I must repeat no one can thank."
